The single release RAUCH from the latest album CODA. Through the additional remixes the already multifaceted piece gets a depth and complexity, that other artists don't reach with a hole album.

First there is the remix of the friendly techno newcomer COMA (Firm/Kompakt) from Cologne, who set with each EP, which are released in more an more rapid frequency, a new standard in sophistication.

The second remix by SHITDISCO from Glasgow (Dim Mak) fascinates with a bass, which presses likeable like an old friend and unpredictable like a little kitten onto the midriff.

And the Spanish Basque organisation CRYSTAL FIGHTERS (Kitsune) delivers the third remix about which nothing can be written, because every time you hear it, all wok is forgotten and you have to start to dance.

Includes download-code for free 320kbit download of all tracks.
